

CAEL 2009 International Conference
November 18 - 20
InterContinental O'Hare, Chicago IL

For 35 years, the annual conference of the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) has provided an international forum for approximately 500 participants to learn, network, exchange ideas, and work with other sectors to transform lifelong learning.

Included below are a few featured speakers and workshops that we would like to highlight for you. We also thank our clients and many higher education providers that are members of EdLink's Featured Provider Network (FPN) that are supporting the CAEL conference through sponsorships and engaging workshops. While we are not listing them everyone here, additional information and registration information can be found on CAEL's website at www.cael.org.

Wednesday, November 18th:

Opening Plenary and Keynote Speaker:

Andrew Rosenthal

Editorial Page Editor, New York Times

Workshop:

Adult Learning in a Changed Economy – Implications from Market Research

Richard Garrett, Eduventures Inc.

Workshop:

Employability – Linking Classroom Performance to Career Success

Steven Robbins and Gary Nolan, ACT

Workshop:

A Working Model for Corporate Onsite College Degree Programs

Dorothy Martin, Verizon Wireless, and Cathy Steward, Strayer University

Thursday, November 19th:

Keynote Speaker:

Dr. Shirley Pippins

SVP Programs & Services, American Council on Education

Workshop:

Strategies for Developing a Community of Learning in Your Organization

JoAnn Shaw and Jeanne Bronzon, BJC Healthcare

Workshop:

Proving PLA Effectiveness

Becky Klein-Collins and Judy Wertheim, CAEL

Friday, November 20th:

Keynote Speaker: November 20th, 11:30 am

Rick Stephens

SVP Human Resources & Administration, The Boeing Company