The Healthy Workforce Ecosystem

Sustaining healthy talent pipelines that drive equitable economic growth

A healthy workforce ecosystem is one where the range of providers — K-12 systems, public and private universities, corporate education, two- and four-year colleges, skills training programs and economic developers — all play their part in meeting the range of employer and target sector needs.

WHAT MAKES A HEALTHY WORKFORCE ECOSYSTEM?

WHAT’S DRIVING JOB CREATION?
- Target high-demand skills and jobs.
- Identify what jobs are being created and in what industries.
- Leverage your talent pool. Strong educational output can help attract companies and focus your sector targeting.

ARE WORKERS AWARE OF CAREER OPPORTUNITIES?
- Reveal the range of opportunities.
- Identify skills at all levels and show career pathways as well as individual jobs.
- Help workers and students make better career choices.
- Share sector career information with youth, incumbent workers, career changers, adult learners and untapped talent pools.

ARE EMPLOYERS ENGAGED AND DRAWN TO YOUR COMMUNITY?
- Know what they trust. Be aware of which certifications, degrees and credentials your employers recognize.
- Remain agile and adaptable.
- Today’s new skills today may be stale tomorrow.
- Continually validate and refresh all the information that you provide.

DO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL OPTIONS MEET THE RANGE OF LEARNER NEEDS?
- Support talent development for everyone in your community — not just “traditional” students.
- Make sure that target-industry learning opportunities are available to both traditional learners and other adults — incumbent workers, the underemployed and other underrepresented students.

ARE YOUR EFFORTS ACHIEVING SCALE?
- Efficient collaboration builds capacity.
- Understand where workforce and talent development efforts complement and where they overlap.
- Coordinate to eliminate redundancy.
- Connect efforts with common goals, objectives and similar funding, to increase overall impact.

HOW ARE YOU CREATING A RESILIENT WORKFORCE?
- Lifelong learning can sustain a lifetime of quality career growth.
- Remain competitive by making learning available to current workers as well as new ones, and ensure that skill development keeps pace with industries and technologies as they evolve.
- Make learning relevant and valuable.
- Map non-classwork learning to college credit or credential completion more quickly and efficiently so that workers focus on developing the skills necessary for success.
