

CAEL VIRTUAL Conference

November 4 - 6, 2020

Access, Engage and Collaborate with Post Secondary Institutions

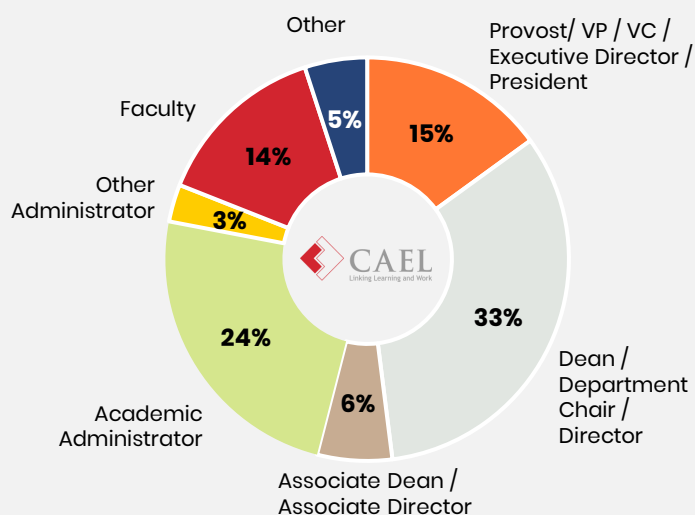

- Connect with higher education professionals from hundreds of colleges and universities across the country.
- Experience the only conference of its kind that helps post secondary professionals and institutions understand and implement programs designed to help adult learners succeed.
- Meet passionate advocates for adult learners who seek solutions to help their institutions better serve this population.

- With over 600 attendees at the 2019 Conference, we're expecting the 2020 Virtual Conference to bring together three times as many adult learning leaders from higher education, along with supporters of CAEL's mission envisioning a world where every adult has a pathway to lifelong learning and meaningful work.
- Sponsorship demonstrates your support for adult learners and the critically important work our members do every day on their behalf.

Who Attends

2019 Attendee Demographics by Title

Connecting those who serve adult learners in the classroom and workplace for 46 years and counting

“The benefits that I receive from our CAEL membership and from attending CAEL conferences are beyond compare. Whether it is a small scale pilot project or a large campus wide initiative, if it is for our adult learners I know that CAEL has the research, expertise and professional network that will help me ensure the success of our project.”

Tracy Robinson, Director, Innovative Academic Initiatives, The University of Memphis
Attended the CAEL Conference for six years

Conference attendees seek these types of solutions to enhance their work in supporting adult learners:

Technology and resources for knowledge and skills assessment, i.e., Credit for Recognized Learning

Enrollment marketing strategies and services to attract adult learners

Tools and resources for online and in-person teaching and learning

Professional development resources for faculty, staff and administrators

Learning Management Systems and integrated tools

Online learning to enhance and supplement current degree programs

Digital badges, micro-credentials and stackable learning pathways

Innovative career exploration tools supporting adult learners in the workforce

Creative workforce development programs, simulations and certifications

And more!
